The two hundred and twenty-nine signers of the request for a referendum on the vote of the Town Meeting appropriating $389,000 for a new high school unit, give in the article below their reasons for this action. The referendum has been set for Thursday, the nineteenth of June.

With the conviction that the Town Meeting Members were not given sufficient time to thoroughly consider the three plans submitted at the special town meeting and wishing to obtain the opinion of the voters at large upon the largest single appropriation ever voted by the town, a petition for a referendum was filed.

The chief bone of contention during the discussion of additional accommodations at the High School has seemed to center around the auditorium and gymnasium. It has been the feeling of many, that, to incorporate an auditorium and gymnasium in the proposed build-

TEN DOLLAR PRIZE FOR BEST TERCENTENARY SNAPSHOT

The Advocate will shortly publish a booklet on Arlington's various contributions to the Tercentenary Celebration. It will contain all the pictures taken by the Marshall Studio of the various episodes of the Pageant of Music—fifteen in all—as well as various other illustrations. The reading matter will embody not only the story of the Musical Festival, but also complete accounts of all the other events put on under the auspices of the Tercentenary Committee, as well as the St. Agnes Flag Raising. The completed book will be 7 1/2 by 10 1/2 inches in size and will contain at least forty pages.

In connection with this publication, the Advocate is also offering a ten-dollar cash prize for the best snap shot or photograph of any person or any group of persons who participated in any of the Tercentenary events. The prints must be in the hands of the judges at this office before Wednesday of next week, June 18.

A great many people have already placed orders for the forthcoming booklet. In their opinion it will be valuable enough to hand down to posterity to say nothing of its great interest to those who were in the pageant and the various other events as well as to those who merely saw those things and who wish to perpetuate their memory.

CAPT. ROBERT TELLS OF A. L. CONVENTION

Captain Ralph Robert, formerly a member of the Cambridge City Council, and one-time candidate for mayor, spoke to the Arlington Kiwanians yesterday noon at their regular weekly meeting.

The topic of his talk was the coming American Legion Convention, which will come to Boston this year. He said that incidental to the convention and its serious purpose in molding the policies of the organization for the coming year, there would be a parade, the like of which never has been seen in this part of the country. It is estimated that it will take ten hours for the column to pass a given point, marching to the music of 2000 bands.

The local post will house a bugle and drum corps connected with one of the distant Legion posts. Arrangements have been made with the Middlesex Sportsman's Association for that purpose. There is a possibility that the boys from Portland, Oregon, will be quartered in Arlington.

SCHOOL WITHOUT AUDITORIUM RETURN TO MEDIEVALISM

Building a modern high school plant without an auditorium and gymnasium, said Principal Herman Gammons of the Senior High School, in an interview with the Advocate, "is going back to the medieval ages in education. It is not keeping up to the standards that have been set."

Mr. Gammons went on to say that he could speak with authority because he had been able to compare the effect on the school of having an auditorium in which the whole school could gather, as they could when Arlington High had a smaller registration, and of being without such a meeting place. There is, he said, a great difference in school spirit, in "esprit de corps", and this is reflected in the attitude of the pupil toward his lessons. There is not the same unity of feeling and of purpose when there is no chance to get the whole school together.

It is a fine thing, he said, to be able to have the whole school hear fine lectures by outside speakers. Particularly helpful, too, are the assemblies conducted by the pupils for which the school orchestra furnished the music. Such meetings rouse the pupils' pride in their school.

From the principal's point of view, an auditorium is even more necessary, that he may be able to meet the whole school and give them the messages that he has for them. Now, Mr. Gammons said regretfully, practically all of his an-

SCHOOL GRADUATIONS WILL BE HELD NEXT WEEK

The graduation exercises of the senior and the three junior high schools will be held next week. There will be about two hundred in the high school class whose exercises will be held next Wednesday evening at eight o'clock in the auditorium. The address will be given by Dr. Denis A. McCarthy, poet and school committee member. The class day exercises come this morning.

All of the junior high school exercises will be held next Friday morning. That of Junior High Centre comes at half past nine in the school auditorium, Junior High East at the same hour and also in the school auditorium, and Junior High West at ten in the High School auditorium.

TERCENTENARY PHOTOS NOW ON DISPLAY

The photographs of the various episodes of the great pageant of last week taken by Marshall's Studio of Cambridge are now on display at the headquarters of the Arlington Tercentenary Committee (Miss Gratto's office) at 675 Massachusetts avenue. Orders will be taken for Mr. Marshall who is a former Arlington man and once had his studio here.

STATEMENT BY CHAIRMAN OF THE FINANCE COMMITTEE

The petitioners for a referendum apparently have a different solution for the high school addition or new building than was embodied in any one of the three schemes, A, B or C, as presented by the Plan Committee.

If the citizens of the Town do not vote to uphold the town meeting members, the Finance Committee will expect the petitioners to present their proposition as early as possible for consideration.

Additional accommodations are imperative. The "third time" must not fail!

MR. KIDDER CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY AT IDLEWILD

"Idlewild Farm", whose hospitality has been so frequently and pleasantly tested by many Arlington people, has lost nothing of its charm in these later days. This was proved again on Tuesday of this week, when Miss Spaulding, the efficient and genial hostess, arranged an impromptu surprise celebration of the birthday of Henry A. Kidder, who, with Mrs. Kidder, has been spending a well-earned vacation among the quiet and restful hills of Dunstable.

Incidental to the celebration was the gathering of a group of house guests, including Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Stevens of Arlington, at a bountiful spread table.

In the following article, M. Norcross Stratton, chairman of the Arlington School Committee, explains why the committee voted unanimously in favor of "Scheme C" on which the citizens of the town will vote in the referendum next Thursday.

There can be no question in the mind of any citizen that Arlington needs more adequate high school accommodations. For those who may not be entirely familiar with the exact situation, the following facts are pertinent.

In 1922 the enrolment in the high school was 564 pupils. By 1925 the enrolment had grown to 763, making necessary two new rooms, which were made possible by changes in the already inadequate lunch room. In 1926, with an enrolment of 801, another new room was provided by alterations in 1927 more cloak room changes provided one more room, and the enrolment was 808 children. In 1928, with an enrolment of 938 pupils, three additional rooms were needed, and were provided by building partitions in some of the large class rooms.

Every Inch of Space Used
In 1929 the enrolment was 1042. Three more rooms were necessary and more class rooms were partitioned to provide the required additional space. Next September we expect an enrolment of 1200 pupils. The Superintendent's office and School Committee rooms have been made over for class room use. The auditorium is equipped with Deskor chairs for use as a study hall and will be needed as a study hall and library when the new building is built. Every inch of available space has been reserved for class room purposes with the attendant inconveniences and limitations resulting from inadequate, poorly arranged, and congested quarters.

Statistics since 1922 show that the number of junior high school pupils is almost exactly reflected in the high school enrolment of four years later. The high school enrolment of three years preceding 1929 is practically a duplication of the junior high school enrolment in the three years prior to 1925. It would appear reasonable to estimate that the junior high school enrolment of 1926, 1927, 1928 and 1929 will be the high school enrolment of 1930, 1931, 1932 and 1933. With that conservative estimate the high school enrolment in 1930 will be 1200. Ten new class rooms should be available then in the new building to relieve the congestion in the present building and provide for the additional pupils. In 1931 the enrolment will be 1350, with the need for five more rooms. In 1932, 1440 pupils with three new rooms, and in 1933 the enrolment will be 1500 pupils with need for two new rooms. By 1939 we will have, without doubt, 1800 pupils with ten more rooms required in the new building.

An Auditorium an Absolute Necessity
An auditorium is an absolute educational necessity for the proper conduct of a large high school. I know of no large community in this State or any other State which does not recognize this need and which has not made such a provision for its high school pupils. The present auditorium is too small to accommodate the needs of our high school as it is. When we have a new auditorium the present one will continue to be needed for a study hall and library. Physical training in a decent well-equipped gymnasium is not only required but it is recognized as a vital part of the training which should be given to our youth. Our present gymnasium, as well as the lunch rooms, are entirely inadequate for our present high school enrolment.

Marriages

PRICE—DAWES

Miss Hazel Marie Dawes, the daughter of Mrs. Henry Laurens Dawes of 3 Plymouth street, became the bride of Thomas Davis Price at a particularly pretty wedding in the First Universalist church last Saturday evening. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Rubens Rea Hadley, the pastor of the church. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Chester Laurens Dawes.

She was gown in white satin with veil of tulle and Chantilly lace, held in place by orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas and lilies of the valley. Attending her was Miss Mildred L. Salmon of Everett. Miss Salmon wore blue point d'esprit and carried spring flowers. Phyllis Dawes of Richmond, Virginia, the niece of the bride, who acted as flower girl, wore pink georgette and carried a blue basket filled with pink rapture roses, harmonizing with the decorations of the church—palms, pink peonies and blue larkspur with lighted candelabras in the chancel.

Howard H. Dawes, the brother of the bride, acted as best man. The ushers were Douglas W. Smeaton of Quincy, Karl D. Roberts of Plymouth, Jerome L. Keleher of Arlington, Harvard, 1927, and Cecil G. Tilton of San Bernardino, California. University of California and Harvard Business School. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Don M. Butler, sister of the groom.

Following the ceremony there was a reception in the Parish Hall. For this, music was furnished by a trio, consisting of Mrs. Howland Freeman, Miss Marguerite Rich and Miss Pearl Andreen. Palms, peonies and larkspur also decorated the hall.

The bride is a graduate of Arlington High School, 1920, and of Miss Pierce's Secretarial School, 1923. She was formerly secretary to Prof. John M. Brewer of Harvard University. Mr. Price is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Milo B. Price of 339 East Main street, Owatonna, Minnesota. He is a graduate of Pillsbury Academy, Owatonna, and attended Denison University before entering the United States Naval Academy from which he graduated on June 5th. He is connected with the Westinghouse Company in the Illuminating Engineering Department. Mr. and Mrs. Price have gone on a wedding trip through Maine. They will make their home in Wilkinsburg, Pennsylvania.

First Baptist Children Present Varied Program

The Children's Day Exercises at the First Baptist church Sunday morning consisted of a varied and unique program. The children of the Beginners, Primary and Junior Departments took part in the pageant, "The Garden of Dreams", which was written and directed by Mrs. R. J. Hunt and Mrs. Grady D. Feagan.

The scene was a garden with red geraniums against a background of palms. An arch, stone wall and wicket fence enhanced the setting. The story tells of a small boy wandering in the garden of dreams. He has never been to Sunday School and does not know about it. A butterfly comes in and on seeing the boy and realizing that he is out of place in the garden, she calls in the angel. The part of the boy was taken by Robert Ladd. The butterfly was little five-year-old Gloria Gillespie and the angel, Barbara Burns. The butterfly and the angel, to demonstrate what a Sunday School is, call in the beginners who appear in costumes representing flowers. They sing "God Takes Care of Everything", recite the Twenty-Third Psalm, and their little prayer. Then the Primary department is bidden to enter and demonstrate what they have learned in Sunday School. They recite their graduation work, and ten little ones, representing birds, sing. The Juniors appear and recite their work for the year. The music of the pageant included a violin solo, "Spring Song", played by Miss Betty Landers, and a vocal solo, "Baby's Boat", by Miss Isabel Souster.

After the pageant diplomas and Bibles were given to the graduates and the potted geraniums were distributed among the little ones.

The following committee was in charge of the program: Mrs. W. A. Tedford, chairman; Mrs. Ralph Hunt, Mrs. Clarence Stewart, Mrs. Grady Feagan.

Mrs. Ruth E. Quinn as chairman of the flowers and costumes, did a commendable piece of work in supervising the making of the hats. The members of her committee were Mrs. E. M. Moore, Mrs. Clark C. Sherman and Miss Lucinda Higgins.

Other committees were: plants, Miss Mary Holman; setting, W. A. Wallace, Edgar Robinson and Mr. Thomas Crawford; music, Miss Isabel Souster and Miss Mary Holman, assisted by the orchestra—Miss Betty Landers, Miss Charlotte Davies, Allen Smith, Willard Wallace and Donald Wallace.

Story of the Library

Classified System

In 1892, Miss Louise V. Marsh's name appears as assistant in the new building and Edward Mears was janitor. Five boys were employed in the moving of books. They were Harry L. Eastman, Daniel Keleher, Charles E. Prescott, Charles F. Bunker and H. Maxwell Brooks.

Up to this time there had been no classified system of the books and Mr. James Parmenter, foreseeing the necessity of such a system in the new building, gave much time to the study of the subject. Of the different systems in vogue, he chose Dewey's Decimal Classification with modifications. This was a decided step in advance and was continued for over thirty years.

In 1893, the number of Trustees was increased to six as follows: Samuel C. Bushnell and Matthew Rowe for three years, James P. Parmenter and Frank W. Hodgdon for two years, Joseph C. Holmes and E. Nelson Blake for one year. Mr. Holmes said in his report, "The increase in the number of Trustees from three to six has been found very satisfactory. Two sub-committees were appointed, one on books and another on the building. Miss Dupee has been employed afterwards in the reading room, not only to look after the room, but to advise readers, especially children, and to assist them in obtaining the particular books needed. This task she has performed to the entire satisfaction of the Trustees and we trust of the public also. The continued interest of Mr. Winfield Robbins in the Library has been evinced by various valuable gifts during the year. Since this report was written, the Trustees have heard with deep regret of the death of Mr. Elbridge Farmer, whose noble endowment of the Library will be long remembered by the citizens of Arlington. A resolution was adopted at a meeting of the Trustees.

In 1894 the sum of $100. to be expended for books was received from Mr. Henry Dexter of New York, son of Jonathan M. Dexter, our first Librarian.

enough to set apart a table in the Reading Room, especially for the new books where the public might see them before they were put into circulation. Miss Cora T. Kimball was one of our helpers this year. Our fine building attracted many visitors from all parts of the country and was universally admired for the simplicity and elegance of its style. One of those most interested was Mrs. Peter Thacher, who, as Miss Estabrook, had the honor of being the second Librarian, from 1839 to 1841, when the Library was moved into her home, the old Adams house. She gave us as a curiosity, a small pamphlet entitled "The Constitution of the West Cambridge Charitable and Reading Society, Instituted the 19th of August, 1816." In 1894 it was said that "The Trustees have recently appointed a sub-committee, consisting of Mr. Hodgdon and Mr. Blake for the purpose of receiving and caring for such articles of interest, especially those relating to local affairs, as the citizens may be disposed to place in its care." This led to the formation of the Arlington Historical Society organized December 7, 1897. A room in the basement was fitted up and served the purpose until the Society secured the Jason Russell House.

In the Report for 1895, mention is made of gifts of Mr. Winfield Robbins of four handsome bronze statues of Louis sixteenth time, representing the seasons, and a magnificent Louis sixteenth clock of brass and tortoise shell which adorns the mantel over the fireplace in the Reading Room. Also it is noted that "Miss Annie Baston after six years of faithful service, resigned in September to accept a position elsewhere. Her always cheerful face and willing spirit will not soon be forgotten." The vacant place was filled by Miss Annie P. Adams. The new assistants in 1896 were the Misses Helen H. Learned and Josephine R. Fowle.

Through suggestions from the Woman's Club and Improvement Society, the number of hours for opening the Library was increased on week days and the Reading Room was opened from 2.30 to 5.30 on Sunday afternoons. This was a much needed improvement for the accommodation of our patrons. On Sunday afternoons there were two classes of visitors: the serious class who came for reading and study and the others who made it a meeting-place for fun and frolic. The attendant in charge often found it a nerve-racking position. A part of the time we were allowed the help of a police officer. This year it was decided to issue a second card to be used for non fiction only if desired, thus allowing the narrower to take two books at a time. This was much appreciated and the circulation was thereby increased.

Pictures Given by Winfield Robbins
 The Report for 1896 says—"We are indebted to Mr. Winfield Robbins for the gift of five large pictures to adorn the Reading Room. These are copied from paintings by distinguished French artists. The subjects are "At the Fountain," "Alexander and Porus," "Columbus Received by the Sovereigns of Spain on His Return from the Discovery of America," "Washington at the Siege of Yorktown," "Napoleon after the Battle of Eylau." At Christmas time other very interesting gifts were received from Mr. Robbins—a miniature of Franklin painted during his residence in France, by Mme. Le Brun, and a series of pictures on vellum, dating from the 15th century, representing the parable of the Prodigal Son."

Our new helpers for 1897 were part-time workers in covering books and putting them and the shelves in order. They were Miss Edith C. Rice, Arthur T. Trowbridge, E. H. Bartlett, Mary F. Mears and Charles Barry.
 In the Report for 1898 it was said "After more than fourteen years of acceptable service, during which she gave increasing satisfaction to the Trustees and to the public, Miss Mary L. Dupee severed her connection with the Library, Nov. 30, 1898." No one knew better than the Librarian and her assistants how valuable Miss Dupee's services were, but her approaching marriage to Mr. C. H. Gannett was sufficient excuse for leaving. Miss Nettie E. Baston who had been with us eight years before, was appointed to succeed Miss Dupee in the Reading Room, Dec. 1st, and Miss Rice became a regular member of the staff also. Our boy helpers were Stanley Smith and E. Hathaway Mills.

As there had been no catalogue printed since the classification of the Library, a new one largely for home use had become essential and the first section, a Fiction List, was issued this year at the nominal price of ten cents a copy. The second section, a Non-Fiction List, was prepared in 1899 and offered at the same price but comparatively few were sold. An extra helper, Miss Jennie M. Roden, was employed in making this List. The cost of the catalogue added to the heavy fixed charges for service, heating, lighting and repairs greatly restricted the funds for the purchase of books and the Trustees could not meet the demands of the reading-public. By paying a subscription of $5. a year, we now became a member of the Mass. Library Art Club that supplied us for a few weeks at a time with a great variety of pictures to hang on our walls. These interesting exhibitions were continued for about 25 years when they were given up for lack of space. The Misses Niles of Arlington presented to the Library a large and handsome crayon portrait of Louisa M. Alcott. Mrs. Edward C. Turner paid for subscription and binding of the magazine Mayflower Descendant from vol. 1. 1899 for 26 years.

Stack Opened to Public

By 1900 we accomplished a long desired result, the opening of the stack to the public. It was necessary to separate the juvenile books from the others and we had no children's room. As the second floor of the stack was not in immediate use, it did not take long to convert a part of it into a pleasant room which was opened on July 24th with Miss Louise V. Marsh in charge. It served its purpose well until the town increased in size. On September 11th the stack was opened to adults on the first floor. There were over 3000 more books circulated that year than during the year before, showing how much the change was appreciated. A new helper was Miss Alma Noyes and at Arlington Heights, Miss Alice S. White. Mention is made in this and nearly every Report, of books and pictures from Mr. Winfield Robbins. This year, books were received from Mr. Henry Dexter of New York, son of our first Librarian, and a generous benefactor of the Library. Also from Mr. Edwin S. Farmer, Mr. J. Howell Crosby and a Neighborhood Book Club. A beautiful marble statue of Nydia, the blind girl of Pompeii, was presented by Mrs. S. C. Bushnell and stands in the rotunda.
 Mr. Frank W. Hodgdon declined reelection in 1901 after serving as a Trustee for eight years. Mr. Walter B. Farmer was elected to fill the vacancy. Dr. Timothy Wellington and his Hodgdon successors therefore had the honorable record of unbroken connection with the Library from 1835 to 1901.
Collection of Engravings
 The many large cases received from Mr. Winfield Robbins as he travelled abroad, contained not only books but hundreds of portrait engravings and other prints. As he became convinced that the art of engraving was passing, he seized every opportunity to make a collection for our Art Gallery which should be interesting and valuable. The Misses Robbins, his cousins, were equally interested and the work of assorting, mounting, cataloguing, etc., was given into the hands of Miss Cairn who was well fitted for the position and gave unsparingly of her time as long as she remained here. At her request, the work is being continued by Mrs. F. W. Achuff, who before her marriage had charge of the Department of Prints at the Art Institute of Chicago. The Librarian, Mrs. Spofford, hopes that by the time this work is completed there will be a suitable place for exhibiting various groups of the portraits from time to time. The large collection already prepared by Miss Cairn Robbins in the Art Gallery may be examined by adults who will be furnished with a catalogue on application.

Changes in Trustees
 Our new assistant for 1901 was Miss Harriet C. Mills. My recollections of the Town Clerks and Treasurers Messrs. John F. Allen, B. Delmont Locke and Harvey S. Sears are very pleasant to recall as they always treated me with the utmost courtesy and Library business obliged me to see them quite often. It was in this year, 1901, that Mr. Locke's misplaced confidence in a clerk brought much suffering to all concerned. The receipt for fine money which I handed to the clerk was not credited to the Library.
 In 1902 there were two changes in our Board of Trustees. Dr. Charles A. Keegan took the place of Mr. Matthew Rowe who resigned after nine years of faithful service and Mr. Arthur J. Wellington succeeding Mr. Walter B. Farmer who moved to Brookline. Mr. Wellington represented the fourth generation of his family connected with the Library.

 That Upkeep Matter

WHEN you have decided what size of car to buy—whether it be a four—six—or eight cylinder, and you have picked the type of body best suited to your needs—it is then time for you to make up your mind that you are going to give that car the attention it needs. Care in breaking in a car means a lot. It may double or treble the life of your car, regardless of what make it is. Choose with care what kind of gasoline and oil you buy. It will pay you large dividends.
 I have a friend who listened to this advice and he has thanked me many times. He has had three new cars in nine years, all of the same make. And when he turns his old car in for a new one, the increased allowance pays him for his care. In all three "trade-ins" he has been allowed as much money as the average one or two year old car brings.
 He washes his car, or has them washed, once a week. And each time he sees that the grease cups are filled. Every 500 miles he changes the oil in the crank-case and refills the transmission and the differential when the car instructions bid him to do so.
 Taking my advice he uses only Pennsylvania grade lubricants for, in

New Light

THE figures of the 1930 census illuminate the question of the new high school building, on which the citizens of the town will vote next Thursday, from a new angle. Arlington's population has nearly doubled. The increase, 93.3%, is a sensational one and second only, it is probable, to Belmont, where the increase was 100%.

In actual numbers over seventeen thousand more persons are living in Arlington now than in 1920, while in Belmont there are but six thousand more. Why, we may well ask, have so many families chosen to establish their homes in our town? And there are many answers that might be given in reply.

There are within its limits many convenient homes that are quickly and easily reached and that have the advantage of being removed from the noise and confusion of the city. There is a good town government, there are many churches, there are pleasant neighbors.

All these factors might well influence a man looking for a home town to choose Arlington.

It is not, however, unreasonable to suppose that the schools of the town played a part in the decision of many a man. Arlington has always had the reputation of having excellent schools—among the best in the state. People who have children, other things being equal, will naturally choose the town with the best schools.

And the people who take an interest in the education of their children make the best citizens. They are the type that the town wishes to attract.

The population of the High School has kept pace in its increase with that of the town. Since 1922 it has increased 84%. The children are fairly bursting out of the building. The school is like the "old woman who lived in a shoe". While new grade schools, new junior highs and additions to grade and junior high schools have been built in all parts of the town, the only addition to the high school accommodations has been that afforded by running up partitions and using for recitations and study, rooms originally designed for other purposes. The building that in 1925 was overcrowded with 763 pupils, now houses 1042. In 1930 it is conservatively estimated, there will be 1300.

That the need of a new high school unit is imperative, few question. That the plans accepted by the Town Meeting will admirably fill the need is also admitted, but it is added with finality, "We can't afford it". The town, these objectors continue, is too near the debt limit and the tax rate is already unduly high.

There may be, however, some things that we can afford even less than the higher tax rate. Can we afford to lower the efficiency of the high school? Considered from a purely material standpoint, we cannot. This lowered efficiency would soon be reflected both in the type of citizen attracted to the town and in the type turned out by the schools. For, after all, we are now determining what the future citizens of Arlington shall be. If we want a prosperous town we should train our boys and girls to be prosperous citizens. It might also be reflected in the population of the town. In the next ten years there might be many vacant houses in Arlington because fewer people had found it a good place in which to live.

There is another and higher viewpoint. Can we afford to ignore our responsibility to the children of the town, a part of which is the best possible development of mind, spirit and body?

Flag Day

TOMORROW is Flag Day. The day when throughout the Commonwealth the Stars and stripes are given especial honor. This year it, like other commemorative days, acquires a new import. This deeper significance cannot be better expressed than in the words of Governor Allen's Proclamation.

Here our glorious history began three hundred years ago. Here the truths and principles to which we held allegiance, took firm root when the seeds of liberty were sown by that band of brave pioneers who came from the Old World to search for freedom. The Charter of the Massachusetts Bay Colony with which they established constitutional government on these shores was the prototype, the forerunner of our national Constitution.

The flag of America, in the dignity and beauty of its stars and stripes, is the symbol to us of our United States. It stands for freedom, for order, for honor and for justice. Allegiance to our flag requires allegiance to our country. Reverence for the flag is none else than reverence for the ideals and principles to which as Americans we owe our liberty and our happiness. The State, in providing for the designation each year of a Flag Day, seeks to instill in the minds of our young people a real and practical patriotism.

Let us remember all that liberty has cost and let us dedicate ourselves anew to its cause, strong in the resolution that its light shall never perish from the face of the earth.

TOWN TOPICS

—The Arlington Lodge of Elks will hold its annual Flag Day exercises on Flag Day proper, which is tomorrow, instead of Sunday, as was previously announced. The exercises will be conducted on the front porch of the Elks' Home at 3 in the afternoon. The speaker will be Warren Bishop, First Assistant District Attorney of Middlesex County.

—The Mercanti Club were entertained at their monthly social meeting at the home of Miss Dorothy Brittain, 24 Cleveland street, on Wednesday evening.

—Miss Mary Fitzpatrick, R. N., and Miss Ise Muller, R. N., who have been touring Canada for the past two weeks, are homeward bound, returning through New York State. They have visited many hospitals, both in Canada and New York, and will soon be busy again with their duties at the Symmes Arlington Hospital.

—The Epworth League of the First M. E. church brought home the banner from the Lynn District Rally held last Saturday at Asbury Grove. Twenty-three of the thirty-seven members attended. Mrs. E. A. Bean accompanied the young people.

—"Ace High", the play which has been advertised so long by the Park Players, will be put on in the Parish House of the Park Avenue Congregational church tonight. It has a splendid cast and has been extensively advertised; so a success is promised. The banquet of the organization takes place at the same place tomorrow evening.

Here and There

The only criticism heard thus far of the great musical pageant was the fact that more people were not allowed to attend. It honestly was a wonderful affair, and there should be no criticism, but the nerve of some people is appalling. Of course, there is some basis to the claim that more people, if not everyone in town should have had the opportunity of attending. The greatest peace time event which Arlington, West Cambridge or Menotomy has witnessed in the last three hundred years should have been made available to more people. It should have been held out doors and all that, but what are we going to do about it now?

The fact of the matter is this. No one, not even Miss Pierce, the guiding spirit of the thing, an enthusiast, extraordinary, had the slightest notion that the affair was going to go over as big as it did. Miss Pierce was as close to the thing as anyone could get without becoming too personal, and the final outcome of the Musical Festival or whatever it is called exceeded her fondest hopes. In other words, no one could have planned for such a great success. No one could have foreseen that such a crowd would attend. The pageant was the success of three generations.

That last just stated as a fact will be challenged by some of our consistent challengers. One of our prominent citizens who was not able to see the past pageant did, in fact, challenge the writer when he made a similar statement in public. He said that nothing could have surpassed the wonderful outdoor pageant held on the shores of the Mystic Lakes. Nothing could have been more wonderful than that. He did not care how good the Musical Festival was. It could not have been better than that.

Really and truly, this last affair was more wonderful than one could possibly have hoped, and the outdoor pageant of many years ago was just as wonderful, perhaps. But the two are not at all comparable. That is why the reporter who had the terrific job of writing the record of the Musical Festival called it the most wonderful thing that Arlington has ever put on indoors. It might have been better than the pageant of the Mystic Lakes, but who dares to say when there is no comparison between the two.

You know, the reporter who wrote up the pageant had a tough job on his hands. The Advocate has been writing in superlatives so long that more superlatives merely seem to be superlative. In other words, it is another case of the boy who howled "wolf". Superlatives in this case and according to our regular usage, would not mean any more than those used in the ordinary criticism of amateur theatricals. Oh how! Oh how! is a reporter going to express his real opinion.

But in this case, the writer happens to know that the reporter on this job meant every word he said. When he said "wonderful", "marvelous" or what have you he meant "wonderful", "marvelous", or what have you.

Randall Snow of the Park Players has submitted the solution. He suggests that criticisms of amateur productions ought to come direct from the heart of the critic. He ought not say a show was good unless it actually was good. That is what Mr. Snow thinks. In fact, he actually invited the Advocate reporter to render a frank criticism of the play which the Park Players are to put on tonight. We are licking our chops over the prospect. We may be sued for libel when it is all over, but we are going to print extra papers for the Heights section next week. Someone is sure to get hauled over the coals, and everyone else will be sure to be on hand to hear the screams.

Something more should really be said on the new high school question, but the Musical Pageant seems to overshadow everything right now in the minds of most of us. Suffice it to say that the opponents of the present plan for a new high school are coming out into the open and are putting their cards on the table. It is even rumored that they have a definite plan to substitute which will save the taxpayers the burden of building an auditorium and a gymnasium. After all, our grandfathers got along without those things, and most of our fathers did, too, so perhaps we have been silly to advocate improvement. Yes, yes, by all means vote "no" on the referendum. If we had known that our grandfathers never had any gymnasiums, we never would have supported the building committee.

To get back to the Musical Festival, anyone who has read the account will readily see that every taxpayer in Arlington was responsible for the success of the thing, but after all people should know where the idea for the thing really did center, and this writer thinks he has the inside story.

Two years ago Charles A. Hardy, chairman of the Tercentenary Committee, tried to get the Arlington Historical Society to put on a similar pageant, but somehow the thing fell through. Accordingly, he again suggested his idea to Mrs. James A. Bailey to be used as part of Arlington's Tercentenary Celebration. She and the rest of the committee approved; so the thing was put up to Miss Pierce. Miss Pierce took hold in her dynamic way and last January presented a plan to the committee which more than surpassed Mr. Hardy's wildest dream. Then Miss Pierce, with the most able assistance of Mrs. Evans, drove the project home to its marvelous conclusion. In the words of Mr. Hardy, "When Miss Pierce takes hold of a thing, she certainly makes a success of it."

Perhaps Mrs. Evans' greatest contribution to the pageant was the program. It was a beautiful job of printing, even if we do not do it. Mrs. Evans spent hours in the Parish House, digging out facts and quotations, with the result that her final product was a masterpiece—one more masterpiece to add to the great masterpiece of the whole production.

Fifty Years Ago This Week

The Seventeenth of June.—It is highly gratifying to notice the growing disposition on the part of the people of New England to make the most of all holidays, and celebrate them at least by a cessation of business if not with outward or more prominent demonstrations of joy. The anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill is worthy of notice and each year sees an increase in the number of those who take the day for pleasure and recreation.

Strawberry Festivals.—The season for these highly enjoyable parties has arrived and is being improved to a considerable extent. The berries are abundant, of more than average size and quality, and prices range lower than for many years.

Tuesday evening the ball opened at the vestry of the Unitarian church, where a goodly number gathered to enjoy the luscious fruit and inviting cream and cake as well as to improve the opportunity for enlarging and improving acquaintance with each other.

Wednesday evening Bethel Lodge entertained its members, with their ladies, and a number of invited guests in their lodge room in Bank Building.

The same evening a strawberry festival and rose party was given at Union Hall, Arlington Heights.

Model Extinguisher.—Thursday afternoon some little boys, playing near Cotting Schoolhouse, discovered that water was dripping from the ceiling of the recitation rooms and ran to Mr. Frank Litchfield, the janitor, and told him. He hurried to the building, accompanied by Mr. Nickerson and some painters, and found the lower story flooded with water. On going up stairs they found the rooms filled with smoke and every evidence that the building was on fire. An alarm was sounded by ringing the school bell and this in turn started the church bells. Before the firemen arrived, although they rallied promptly, all occasion for their service was over. An investigation showed that the contents of a waste box in the experimenting room had caught fire and ignited the woodwork of the room. The heat of the burning wood melted the water pipes, which poured the contents on the fire and extinguished it, a most singular incident certainly.

Twenty-five Years Ago This Week

A June Wedding.—Through the efforts of Mrs. Arthur Wood, one of the dearest entertainments ever given here was presented in the vestry of the Orthodox Congregational church on Thursday evening. It was called a "Tom Thumb Wedding", and such it was. Every detail was carried out in the most approved style, even to decorations and the costuming of the wedding party and its special guests. The little misses were gowned in really lovely frocks, that of the bride and her maid of honor being especially lovely.

Misses Nan P. Hodgdon and Madeline Porter have this week completed the year's course at Smith College and will soon be home for the vacation.

Mrs. William B. Wood gave a delightful bridge whist party Wednesday afternoon at her home on Academy street. The special guest of honor was Mrs. Waite, a college friend of Mrs. Eben Allen Thacher. The prizes were taken by Miss Esther Babson and Miss Ethel Wellington.

During the base ball season there has been an element among the following of the High School team that has displayed a disposition for lawlessness and indulged in acts of rowdism that have been repudiated by the best elements of the school. The latest act of vandalism was painting the score in red on the entrance steps of the High School building last Friday night of the game of Winchester vs. Arlington. A mass meeting was held at the school on Monday in which indignation was expressed.

Madam Alice May Estey, with her mother and daughter, sails Tuesday of next week from Liverpool to visit her aunt, Mrs. Nellie M. Farmer, at Idahurst.

Correspondence

To the Editor of the Advocate:

The new High School Building if built according to the plans presented as "Scheme C", would be an expensive investment for the town. If you will study the plan a moment you will note the following: The auditorium, besides being one story below the level of the first floor, will, when opened to include the gymnasium, be an awkward arrangement and will have parts of the room which cannot see the stage.

We are told that the building, as designed, is large enough for 9 or 10 years and then more class rooms will have to be added. They say that such class rooms can be added by extending down the two sides of the auditorium, gymnasium units. They say that the two corridors on the sides of auditorium are put there for that purpose, but note that this means half wings on both sides—the most expensive addition that could be built and also the auditorium is only as high as the second story level. Hence, such additions would have to be no higher than that, unless still more expensive construction was used to extend them up and over the roof of the auditorium. Furthermore, if you will note the plan again, this corridor goes only to the gymnasium, making it impossible to extend such wings beyond this point.

Therefore, it seems to me that

"Scheme C" is not the best solution for the town, but is rather a proposition for 9 or 10 years only and then it is a case of another new school.

JACOB BITZER.

A communication to the Advocate in regard to the High School Gymnasium

I believe that a Gymnasium is a good thing to have at our High School and that we should provide such facilities as soon as the Town of Arlington can afford them. However, I feel that class rooms are more important now, if we cannot afford both.

It is my understanding that the Park Commission will ask the Town in a year or two for an appropriation of considerable size for a Shower and Locker Building on the new Warren A. Peirce Playground. Such accommodation should be provided, otherwise the playground cannot be used as it should be.

Why not arrange a Gymnasium so that showers and locker space can be used for the double purpose of the schools and the playground, thus saving the town a lot of money. The present plan for the new High School does not allow this. In my opinion additional study along the above lines will be economical to the Town.

—S. George Lawson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Lawson of 20 Amherst street, graduated this June from the electrical engineering course of Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Mr. Lawson was a member of the class of 1926 at Arlington High School.

Elect William McCarty A. H. S. Track Captain

William McCarty has been elected to succeed Thelton Phinney as captain of the Arlington High School track team of 1931. He is the son of the track coach, William T. (Doc) McCarty and will be a senior next year.

Bill has had a very good record in the high school, not only on the track and ice, but in the class room as well. He has never been in scholastic difficulties—quite the contrary.

When he was a sophomore he was one of the best men on the cross-country team of that season, and in the spring he was Mystic Valley Champion in the broad jump as well. He also made his letter at hockey.

During this past school year he forsook cross-country, but again he was one of the stars on the hockey team which was the only high school six to score a goal in Melrose. He was also Mystic Valley Champion in the broad jump again, clearing nearly 21 feet. He was the mainstay of the quarter mile and the half mile relay teams. During the track season, he scored a score of points in the dashes in dual meets, usually winning first place.

GIRLS' BASEBALL TEAM WINS 2—LOSES 1

The second game of the season was a successful one for Arlington. It looked as though Concord would be the winning team, for until the fourth inning it led with two runs over Arlington's one. In the fifth inning Arlington took the lead, making five runs, while Concord made only two. The sixth inning Arlington scored two more, while Concord scored nothing. In the last inning Concord made only two runs, making the final score, Arlington 8, Concord 5.

Runs were made by Cartullo 2, Donnelly, Sheppard, Duncan, O'Sullivan, Christensen, Davis 1.

Cambridge Latin at Arlington
The team lost its first game of the season when it played Cambridge Latin at Spy Pond Field. The Arlington team did its best, but Cambridge proved the better. The score was even until the fourth inning, when Cambridge scored several runs. From the fourth inning until the last, Cambridge scored plenty more, while Arlington did not score heavily until the last inning, when they scored seven runs, making the total score, Cambridge Latin, 17, Arlington 12.

Arlington at Concord

The girls' baseball team played their last game of the season, and again defeated Concord on their own field, the final score being Arlington 9, and Concord 7. The Concord girls scored no runs until the fifth, when they succeeded in scoring one. The sixth inning they scored another run, and in the last inning five. Arlington was in the lead the whole game. "Tiny" O'Sullivan, the pitcher for Arlington, allowed Concord only three hits, until the last inning.

MRS. BELCHER ON GRISCOM CUP TEAM

Mrs. D. M. Belcher of the Winchester Country Club, runner-up in the recent New England championship, was on the Boston golf team which regained the famous Griscom Cup from New York last Saturday. The final score was Boston 8, New York 7. Mrs. Belcher won her match with Mrs. Cortland Smith of New York, 3 and 2.

High School Track Team Wins Banner in Fitchburg

The Arlington High School track team, coached by Dr. William T. McCarty, brought home its ninth banner from the Fitchburg relays last Saturday, by winning the relay championship of Class C. Arlington finished with 12 points, by virtue of a first, a tie for first, and a second place. Winchester had 8 points, Fitchburg 51 Lynn Classical 3, Belmont 1, Worcester Classical and Gardner 1. There were about fifteen teams entered in Class C.

The Arlington boys won the quarter mile relay (110 yards per man) by a fairly wide margin. They were tied for first in the half mile (220 yards per man), and they were second in the two mile relay (880 yards per man). Coach McCarty did not enter a mile relay team this year, and he did not enter seriously into the shuttle, either. He let his youngsters run in the latter race, merely for the experience.

Incidentally, the two mile relay team from Lynn Classical came very near breaking the record which was set by Worcester South a few years ago when Arlington's great team, consisting of Wood, Evans and the Kelley brothers, pushed them to the limit.

In the half mile relay both Arlington and Winchester, who were tied for first place, broke the existing record. On this team Capt. Phinney led off and finished the 220 in third place in a field of eight. Capt. elect Bill McCarty, who was second, opened up a five-yard advantage. The third man, Linane, held his own and Dineen at anchor, gave his best in a fighting finish to pull out a tie with Winchester. The big Arlington man was overtaken by Lorne of Winchester, in his heat, but he saved three off at the finish by a good three yards. Winchester tied Arlington's record in another heat.

It is usual for Arlington to win the quarter mile relay. In fact, Coach McCarty's team has won that event and the half mile relay every single year since the institution of the relay. On this team Capt. Phinney ran first and opened up a lead. Bill McCarty ran next and increased that lead to five yards. Keefe held his own and Dineen romped through to an easy finish.

The two-mile relay team had a tough customer in Lynn Classical, but at least it beat all the rest. Bob Fleming, Arlington's best man in the half, came in with a slight lead, but George Buckley lost that and a little bit more. Then Johnny O'Neill lost still a little more, leaving it impossible for LeDoux to make up the ground. Lynn had a great team.

Golf Teams In Striking Distance As End Nears

The Winchester Country Club golf team, second and first, lengthened their holds on second place by their matches on the home course Tuesday afternoon, and the second team, especially, has a very good opportunity of coping first place in the league if it can defeat Charles River in the last match of the season next Tuesday on the Charles River course.

Last Tuesday the first team won from the Country Club, 7½ to 4½, while Brae Burn, in the league lead, was, surprisingly enough, losing to Oakley by a similar score. Thus, Winchester picked up six points on the league, but it is still five points behind. There is a possibility that that advantage may be overcome in one match, but it is not probable.

The second team, on the other hand, is six points behind Charles River, which is in first place, but it has a better chance, since Charles River is the team which it plays next Tuesday. If the second team can defeat Charles River on its own course by a 9 to 3 score, there will be a tie for first place. If the score is better than that, Winchester will win.

In the first team matches Tuesday, the number one team, Chase and Wood, was again defeated by a decided margin, 2½ to 1½. Westmore and Hinstabrook turned the trick. Jackson and Eaton won three big points from Brown and Carl, but Corwin and Bob Goodale lost two to Mason and Chick. Then Hendrick and Nazro closed the list with three more points won from Ellis and Sleeper.

On the second team, Connors and Hicks lost the first match, 1½ to 2½, to Harwood and Hornblower, but Walker and Flaher evened matters by defeating Bailey and Willett by a similar score. Newman and Percy Goodale took Claffin and McNeill, 2½ to 1½, and Ben Goodale and Carr took all three points from Gannett and Rivers.

ARLINGTON GIRLS DEFEATED BY WINCHESTER, 5-0

The Arlington High School Girls' tennis team played Winchester last Friday at the Winchester Country Club but was defeated, 5-0. Both Dorothy Parks and Barbara Carr won very fine games.

Helen Bidwell defeated Dorothy Parks (A), 6-2, 6-2; Mary Carr defeated Barbara Carr (A), 6-0, 7-5; Madeline Little defeated Betty Hendrick (A), 6-2, 6-3; Caroline Mercer and Martha Boyden defeated Grace Dearing and Marjorie Lowcock (A), 2-6, 6-2, 6-4; Loretta Carlson and Ruth Wadleigh defeated Margaret Hart and Mary Powers (A), 8-6, 6-4.

Arlington was to play Malden Monday, but it rained. The girls started a match with Lexington Tuesday, but it rained again. Only two members of the squad—Dorothy Parks and Marjorie Lowcock—played Wednesday as the others were too busy studying for exams. Their places were filled by Miriam Snow, Dorothy Pluta, June Tenney, Dorcas O'Neill, and Margaret Shea. Both games are postponed until next spring.

This brings a conclusion to the games this spring. Arlington won two matches—Concord, 4-1 and Winthrop, 5-0, and lost two, Newton, 4-1, and Winchester, 5-0.

Dorothy Parks was the captain and Marion Crampton the manager. Barbara Carr was second, followed by Betty Hendrick, Elizabeth Eames, Marjorie Lowcock, Grace Dearing, Mary Powers and Margaret Hart.

CHURCH PRETTILY DECORATED FOR CHILDREN'S DAY SERVICE

Calvary Methodist church was prettily decorated for the Children's Day service which was held there last Sunday afternoon. The front of the church was transformed into a stone wall, above which trees waved their branches, and against which were set blossoming geraniums. Daisies and peonies added to the attractiveness of the church, while the canaries, whose cages hung in the windows, sang with the children.

Each department presented a program of songs and recitations. Mrs. Robert Frost had charge of the Kindergarten. Mrs. M. N. Hartwell of the half past nine primary, Dr. Edna Easter of the twelve o'clock primary, and Miss Beulah Thomas of the juniors. Mrs. Annie Barrows' class gave the entertainment for the intermediates. Theodore H. Barrows, the superintendent, headed the Children's Day Committee. Mrs. Hartwell and Dr. Easter arranged the decorations and Philip Aisen secured the plants which were given to the children of the kindergarten and primary departments.

At the morning service eleven babies were baptized. The youngest was the four-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chase, who was named Robert. The parents brought the baby from their home in Methuen to have him baptized in the church which his mother, who was Miss Elizabeth Wallace, formerly attended. Dr. Shaw preached on "Bad Boys".

ODD FELLOWS AND REBEKAHS

Bethel Lodge of Odd Fellows, Arlington Encampment, and Ida F. Butler Lodge of Rebekahs held their annual memorial service in the Folien church, East Lexington, last Sunday morning. Flowers were laid on the altar in memory of Everett S. Chapman, Sidney Dean, Charles C. Wetherbee, Charles H. Spaulding, Francis Gustin and Hannah F. Dudley.

The committees in charge of the service were Frank Howard, George Pekin, John Wheatley, and William Smith from the Odd Fellows, and Mrs. W. M. Peppard, Mrs. Ayer and Mrs. Joseph Traverse for the Rebekahs.

SCHOOL ART EXHIBIT
ATTRACTS MUCH ATTENTION

The exhibit of drawings and paintings by Arlington school children placed in the left corridor of the Robbins Memorial Town Hall by Mrs. Marion I. Ford, school supervisor of drawing last week, attracted a great deal of attention and much favorable comment. Many who attended the pageant visited the exhibit either during the intermission or after the program. Particularly attractive was the black and white work of the junior high school pupils. Excellent, too, were the brightly colored designs by high school pupils. There were also many exclamations of delight over the project—a Japanese scene, showing cherry blossoms in bloom—which was executed by the third grade of the Locke School.

beautifully arranged, with flowers, decorations and favors. Mrs. Kidder presided at the table and kept the ball of hilarity and good fellowship moving at a lively pace. A beautiful birthday cake, with nobody knows how many lighted candles, was the crowning feature of the feast.

The pleasures of the table were supplemented by a season of congratulatory speeches and the recalling of apt and mirth-provoking anecdotes, new and old. Several letters of congratulation were read from officials of the Orthodox Congregational church of Arlington, some of whom have been recently entertained at dinner at "Idlewild" by the Kidders.

When the officers reached the middle of the floor they broke ranks and made an arch of pinks, under which the receiving line passed. Many lovely gifts were presented to Mrs. Downs, among which were flowers and gold from Belmont Chapter, where she has a dual membership, a beautiful set of Ritz blue glass from Mrs. Perham, flowers and gold from the Association of 1929 Matrons and Patrons, fifty dollars in gold from her husband and children, a beautiful table lamp from her officers of 1929, a bouquet and gold from Longfellow Chapter as well as other gifts of flowers and gold from other members of her family and her many friends.

ing, in addition to the auditorium and gymnasium. In the present building is a gross waste of the taxpayers' money; for to follow this plan to its logical conclusion means that when more accommodations are required, another auditorium and gymnasium must be furnished in a later new building.

When the town was requested to build a building to relieve the overcrowded conditions at the present high school it was understood that the crying need was for more classrooms but the committee on plans insists that if the whole structure cannot be furnished this year the auditorium and gymnasium should receive first consideration. We do not believe this to be so.

We feel that the town should build a building for class room purposes this year, planning in the near future, to erect a separate building which should be planned to accommodate 2000 persons. The gymnasium occupying the entire floor in the playground level. And, of most importance, if this building is erected as a separate unit the gymnasium may be used in connection with the playground in the rear by the townspeople and the auditorium rented for civic affairs.

The comparison of costs shows that, if a separate classroom unit is constructed, 30 rooms can be built and finished for $300,000 if 20 rooms are finished this year, the cost will not exceed $250,000—or a saving this year of $139,000—or more than $2.00 on the tax rate. To finish 20 rooms would take care of the class room needs of the high school for the next 6 years.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE TELLS
WHY IT FAVORS "SCHEME C"

The new high school, as outlined under Scheme C, and voted at the last special town meeting would provide adequate accommodations for the educational needs of our high school children for some time to come. By completing part of the building as planned by the committee, our present needs would be taken care of. Your school committee is unanimously in favor of the plan known as scheme C, which would provide best for the immediate needed class rooms, auditorium, lunch room and physical training quarters and which will also provide, in the future, for the inevitable need for more space.

Arlington has established an enviable reputation for its schools. Careful study has been made by the Committees charged with the responsibility of administering the schools as to the high school accommodations needed. The voters should see to it by supporting the high school project that Arlington continues to be proud of its educational system, that her children are given proper accommodations in an adequate, up-to-date high school plant.

THREE ARLINGTON PEOPLE
HURT IN BELMONT CRASH

There was an accident in Belmont last Friday afternoon in which three Arlington people were hurt, together with one Cambridge boy, Arthur Dallin of Oakland avenue, Mrs. Margaret Bixby and Mrs. K. B. Marshall of 65 Hillside avenue and Francis W. Nichols of Cambridge were all taken to the Cambridge Hospital, after the car in which they were riding crashed into a telephone pole. No one of the four was very seriously injured, but according to all reports, it was a miracle that they were not all killed.

The party was coming down that terrifically steep part of Concord avenue which runs off Pleasant street. Near the foot of the hill, according to the story of the driver, Mrs. Bixby, the brake rod broke and the car ran amuck. Rather than risk hitting any of the people who were crowded near at the Woman's Auxiliary Fair, Mrs. Bixby steered into a telephone pole.

The force of the impact was terrific and the crash could be heard all over the grounds. Great crowds of people collected and found that the car had virtually been cut in two. One whole side had been ripped nearly off. It was this that saved the occupants from instant death. All four were thrown clear and onto the ground. The ambulance arrived soon and took them to the hospital.

The Universalist Church School presented an interesting program at the service last Sunday morning, depicting clearly the work of the school. The program which was conducted by the superintendent, David L. Peirce, included "What We Learn", "How We Serve" and "Our Giving Service". It was much enjoyed by a large congregation.

In addition to her work as director, Miss Madden took the part of the leading Oriental slave, and of a pirate and also danced. She was the recipient of a formal expression of gratitude from Mr. and Mrs. Anderson.

The operetta, which was witnessed by about three thousand people, was written by Mrs. Anderson and the music by Mrs. Gulesian. Well known Boston singers took the leading parts, while one hundred students of the Emerson College of Oratory sang in the chorus and Junior League girls sold refreshments.

Don't Move . . .
MODERNIZE!

WHAT if your home is out of date and lacking in the conveniences of more modern dwellings! Homeowners all over the country are becoming acquainted daily with the marvels that MODERNIZATION can accomplish. Houses that were built 15 or more years ago are being converted into smart, trim, MODERN residences, and it is no longer necessary to move to enjoy the new comforts and beauty of newly constructed homes.

The best of it is that MODERNIZATION costs so little, comparatively. At only a modest expenditure, you can MODERNIZE your property so that, in addition to being more attractive and livable, it will also be more valuable. MODERNIZED property is more readily sold.

If your home has been recently constructed, you may prefer to MODERNIZE only a part of it . . . by adding a new porch for instance, or by making an extra room out of the attic or basement . . . or again, by enjoying some of the new built-in conveniences that are so desirable.

Whatever your choice, we shall be glad to work with you and help you plan your MODERN home. Let us submit estimates of the cost of MODERNIZING all or part of it, and of the increased comfort, satisfaction and value you will gain by MODERNIZATION.

GETTING CAMP SACHEM READY FOR BOY SCOUTS

The work of getting Camp Sachem at Antrim, N. H., ready for the Boy Scouts of New England Council has begun. The new spring has been dug out, cemented and made ready for summer. Much of the credit for the fine work done on it belongs to "Jake" Bierenbroodspot, who was both skilful and indefatigable. The long pipe line from the spring to the mess hall has been relaid, the boats and canoes repaired and the motor boat repaired and put in order.

Scout Executive Richard Mellen and Chairman "Ted" Whittemore of the Camp Sachem committee were in charge of the work. They had as their helpers Alfred Woodward, Lewis Ballard, George Greenlaw, Dr. Harry Green, James Alderson and Russell Snow, leaders, and an equal number of scouts.

Enrollment for camp is going on apace. 45 scouts having signed up for 180 weeks according to recent figures at headquarters. The following scouts have enrolled:

From Arlington—Troop 1—George Wood, Jr., George Shaw; Troop 2—Karl Herendence; Troop 3—Albert Hawkes, Robert Griffin; Troop 4—David Nickerson; Troop 5—Harvey Newgent, Richard Brainard, Robert Brainard, Ernest Moegelin, Rollin Steele, Robert Lenk; Troop 6—John Pangborn, Erving Pangborn; Troop 7—Chester Hill, George Hill, Philip Allen; Troop 8—Belmont; Troop 9—Bartlett Miller; Troop 10—T. Warren Butters; Troop 14—Elvin Baker, Odin MacPhee, James McCarthy; Troop 15—Herbert Smith.

Arlington's population has been announced as 36,089, according to the preliminary count of the returns of the fifteenth census. Ten years ago the population was 18,665. This gives an increase of 93.3%. It is also more than a thousand above the popular estimate of 35,000, which seemed large to many.

These figures, according to Mrs. Mabelle Kenney, census supervisor, are preliminary and subject to correction, but it is believed that they are substantially correct. However, there are Arlington residents who say that the census taker did not visit them, so the revised count may show a small increase, at least.

There were twenty-two farms enumerated within the confines of the town.

TEACHERS' CLUB ELECTS JAMES NELSON PRESIDENT

The Arlington Teachers' Club held its annual meeting on Tuesday evening at Junior High East. Among the items of interest discussed and voted was that of a gift of one hundred dollars to the Riverbank Lodge, which is a part of the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation. The following officers were elected: president, James Nelson, High School; first vice-president, Miss Grace G. Pierce, supervisor of music; second vice-president, Charles Downs, High School; corresponding secretary, Miss Ida Eaton, Pierce School; recording secretary, Miss Hilda Kurvian, Locke; treasurer, Miss Irene Tibbetts of Junior High West.

A. V. N. A. BOARD DECIDES TO HOLD WELL BABY SHOW

At the executive meeting of the Arlington Visiting Nurses Association, held Tuesday morning at the home of the president, Mrs. Roger W. Homer, it was decided to hold a Well Baby Show at three o'clock on the afternoon of June 20th at the headquarters of the Association on Massachusetts avenue. There will be two prizes and ribbons. The first prize will be given to the baby who shows greatest progress in health during the year. As a record has been kept of all the babies who attend the Well Baby Clinic, this will not be difficult to determine. Mrs. James H. Kernan is in charge of the show.

It was announced that $4,132 has been realized on the drive. It is expected that more money will come in as follow-up letters will be sent to those who usually contribute and who have not yet been heard from.

The question of starting a nutrition clinic was discussed. It was voted to recommend starting one.

Mrs. Hannah Paine entertained the Paquinose Club at her home on Tufts street, Monday evening.

TWO ARLINGTON GOLD STAR MOTHERS SAILING FOR FRANCE

Two Arlington Gold Star Mothers are to sail for France on the twenty-fifth of June. Mrs. John Finn of 108 Warren street and Mrs. Robert J. Brant of 14 Warren street, received invitations from the government some time ago and have accepted them.

An Advocate reporter talked to Mrs. Finn the other morning, and she told him the whole story. She was a bit doubtful about going at first because she is in her eightieth year, but finally she was persuaded to accept the kind invitation of the government. Miss Caroline Pierce, the Town Clerk, was largely responsible for her final decision.

The U. S. government is paying the entire expense, even including the car fare from Arlington to the South Station. The mothers were also sent beautiful gold star badges which they are to wear.

Mrs. Finn came to Arlington direct from Ireland in 1870, and she has lived here ever since. Upon her arrival she went to work for the Wellingtons and served in several branches of the family until she "took John Finn" many years ago. Mr. Finn is being left behind on this trip, but as Mrs. Finn said, "He is a good lad and will behave himself while I am gone." She does not expect to be back in Arlington before the end of July.

TOWN TOPICS

A bridge party followed the Tuesday evening meeting of Longfellow Chapter, O. E. S.

The Board of Health map of the town shows thirty-two cases of measles and twenty-five of scarlet fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Whiting Bacon of 235 Gray street have named their baby son Robert Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Robinson of 33 Appleton street are rejoicing in the birth of a son whom they have named Joseph.

Edwin Derby of 6 Freeman street, who has been ill for some time, is getting better, his friends will be glad to hear.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Luciano of 108 Decatur street on the sixth of June. She has been named Rose Marie.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Holdsworth, formerly of Arlington, have issued invitations to their friends for a house warming at their home in Highgate, Brookline.

The Sunday Schools of St. John's and the Church of Our Saviour will picnic together at Vose's Pond, Maynard, next Tuesday, June 17th.

Elliott R. Barker of 26 Lombard road spent a part of this week at Newfound Lake, New Hampshire, getting his cottage there ready for the summer.

Miss Kathleen Harrington of 25 Amsden street and Crawford Francis Combs of 115 Oakland avenue recently announced their marriage.

WORK STARTED ON NEW MT. PLEASANT CEMETERY CHAPEL

Work has been begun on the chapel for Mt. Pleasant cemetery, for which money was appropriated at the last town meeting. The new building, which promises to be most attractive, will be built of velvet brick with granite trimmings. It will be one story, fifty-five by thirty-five feet, and will have a large basement containing about 1800 square feet, which can be used for storage. It is situated at the corner of Beech and Maple streets.

The architect of the building is Gay and Proctor, the construction work is being done by the Arlington Construction Company; the electrical work by Sword Brothers and the heating and plumbing by F. S. Woods. It is expected that it will be completed in about ten weeks.

Warren A. Peirce is chairman of the Cemetery Commission, who are in charge of the work, and the other members are George G. Allen and J. Edwin Kimball. Mr. Peirce, the oldest member of the board, was elected in 1886 for the first time. Mr. Allen in 1901 and Mr. Kimball, 1903. The years of service of the three total one hundred this year. They have been re-elected each year without opposition.

Because of the burning of the year house in the cemetery last year, the commission was forced to break a record of many years, during which it has been self-supporting, and to ask the town for money. The new chapel will replace the year house and will also contain offices for the commission. Its cost will be $26,600.

ARLINGTON YOUNG PEOPLE PLAN JUNE WEDDINGS

If the intentions announced at the office of the Town Clerk, Miss Caroline Pierce, may be used as a criterion there will be many Arlington young people married this month. Last week's intentions include the following: Thomas Joseph Flatley, 105 Medford street, and Marjorie Ethel Kay, 19 Boston avenue, West Medford; Albert Joseph Hanley, 206 Magnolia street, Auburn, R. I., and Marguerite Maud Marie Connelly, 70 Norfolk road; Vincent Byron Bennett, 4 Pine Ridge road, West Medford and Alice Katherine White, 3 Lorne road; Michael Paul Keefe, 32 Sherborn street, and Nellie Bright Walsh, 6 Woodland street; Leonard Collingwood Brooks, 18 Washington street, Manchester, Conn., and Katherine Eva Davis, 181 Waverly street; Bennie Joseph Melanson, 11 Westcourt terrace, and Georgianna Florence Gagnon of the same address; George Henry McManis, 64 Lansdowne road and Edith Hill Leach, 46 Mountfort street, Boston; Frank Cossette, 66 Magnolia street and Mrs. Mary Ann Sarason, 24 Madison avenue, Cambridge; George John Tallas, 74 Locust street, Winthrop and Yata Arthur Papoulas, 314 Massachusetts avenue; Lester Howard Warren, 10 St. Paul street, Cambridge, and Olive Evelyn Merrill, 46 Sunset road; Miner Colburn Lyon, Berkeley, California, and Helen Pearl Bennett, 27 Russell street.

The Sunday Schools of St. John's and the Church of Our Saviour will picnic together at Vose's Pond, Maynard, next Tuesday, June 17th.

ARLINGTON BRANCH SENDS DELEGATES TO STATE GUILD

The St. James Branch of the Massachusetts Catholic Woman's Guild was represented at the biennial convention of the Massachusetts Catholic Woman's Guild held Saturday, June 7th, in the Hotel Statler, by Mrs. Helen K. Quinn, Regent, and Mrs. Mary E. Hatch, Vice Regent. Reports of the charitable work of the different branches took up the greater part of the morning and after lunch the election of officers for the next two years took place. These reports on charity showed that in the last twelve years the Guild has given $115,824.00 to the different charities. Some of the institutions assisted by the Guild were the Home for Destitute Catholic Children, Little Sisters of the Poor, The Working Boys Home, Holy Ghost Hospital for Incurables and the Vacation House for Undernourished Children. This year they are adding The Mission House, Island Creek, Mass., to their list to receive a yearly $500.00 scholarship fund.

Friends will sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Publicover of 18 Radcliffe road in the death of their eight-month-old son, Edwin Andrew, which occurred on the eighth of June. The baby was buried in Mt. Pleasant on the ninth.

HENRY MASON APPRECIATES THE LOWELL MASON EPISODE

Miss Grace Gordon Pierce, director with Mrs. C. Frederic Evans of "A Pageant of Music in America," has received from Henry Mason a letter appreciative of the whole pageant and speaking particularly of Episode VII, "The Influence of Lowell Mason." Mr. Mason's letter is especially interesting as he is the grandson of Lowell Mason and is at present engaged in writing the biography of that musical pioneer. Mr. Mason's letter follows.

Arlington, Mass., June 7, 1930
My dear Miss Pierce:

May I once more offer you my hearty congratulations on your splendid work of last evening? To you and to your associates I am deeply grateful for a unique and moving experience such as is but rarely made possible; my daughter joins me in this as I am confident Mrs. Mason would too had she not been unavoidably absent.

I shall never forget your spirited conducting of "Yankee Doodle" nor the profound reverence with which you led the "Hallelujah Chorus." Let me thank you for having made it possible for me to come into the presence of a spirit so sincere in its feeling, so elevated in its thought.

How charming the whole Pageant! How cleverly planned and how admirably executed! The scene of the Puritan Meeting House and that of the Sinking School—altogether delightful!

You suggested that I tell you my impression of the Lowell Mason episode. Lord, let me try! Imagine my feeling when at last after years of study and writing of the man I saw him enter the room! Shall I ever cease to remember it? There he was—not merely a verisimilitude but the man himself. What if Lowell Mason never as matter of fact permitted his locks to reach his shoulders (!) still Mr. Angus was the embodiment of poise, dignity and graciousness—and these I think, nay, I know, were outstanding characteristics of the original. How kindly the impersonation, how its magnetism filled the room, how its heart went out to each and every one of the precious children and how affectionately they, in turn, responding to his bidding, sang his lovely, "Flowers, Wildwood Flowers." It is perhaps impossible for another to realize what all this meant to me. I have but recently completed the chapter (in the biography) concerned with these very matters and I would that I could adequately convey to you my emotions after witnessing the reality of that which I have endeavored to put into words. I just simply had to leave the hall then and there. In his violin announcement of the song-theme Mr. Angus touched my heart as it has seldom if ever been touched before. I am truly grateful.

For the beautiful, noble work you and your associates have accomplished, for the tribute you have rendered, one and all, to the memory of those who have gone before, but whose bright influence is vouchsafed us of to-day and to those who shall follow us, I salute you, all, in deep gratitude.

Sincerely yours,
HENRY L. MASON.

Common sense is genius dressed in working clothes.

PAGEANT OF MUSIC IN AMERICA IS A TREMENDOUS SUCCESS

Huge Cast Depicts Beautiful Scenes in History of Music. Settings and Costumes Authentic. Production Smooth.

PAGEANT DIRECTORS EXPRESS APPRECIATION

The directors of the recent Tercentenary pageant feel that special recognition is due those whose services were not apparent at the performances and yet without whose indefatigable labors the pageant would not have been possible. First of all, a debt of gratitude and appreciation is owed Mrs. Helen G. Bailey who never failed to meet the many demands laid upon her and whose steady courage was a prime essential. With Mrs. Mary Waterman, she handled the various groups of participants in a most systematic fashion with no delays.

The town was fortunate in being able to call upon the talent of Mrs. Roscoe Perry to solve the difficult problems offered behind the scenes. Her poise and coolness in the various emergencies which arose, and the clever manipulating of the scenery by her committee brought forth the comment that the work was done by a large group of professionals.

A generous share of glory should go also to Mrs. Hoxie and her committee for their efficient management of the costumes for two hundred and fifty people. Fifteen minutes after the last performance every costume was sorted and packed away for shipment.

Mrs. Forbes and her committee performed a splendid task in procuring authentic properties for the various periods and efficiently co-operating with the stage manager in the many changes which were necessary.

"They also serve who only stand and wait" applied in part to the episode chairmen, who kept their big groups in order through the long moments of waiting, and who gave many hours to the details of their duties.

Through an error the names of two of the cast were omitted in the program. In respect to many inquiries we would like to report that the parts of Columbia and Peace were beautifully portrayed by Mrs. Guy Sanger and Mrs. John Dick.

TROOP FIVE SCOUTS HONOR MEMORY OF PAUL HAWKES

On Memorial Day there was another tribute to a fallen warrior which escaped the notice of the local press. In this case, the one who was commemorated was not a man of war but a fighter for peace and the ideals for which the Boy Scouts of America stand. Troop 5 held a service in honor of the memory of Paul Hawkes, formerly a member of that troop, who was killed while coasting just six months ago.

The idea of the service was conceived by Cecil B. Cowdrey and carried out by the troop committee of which Mr. Cowdrey is treasurer. Besides the regular Boy Scout memorial service, the troop dedicated a granite marker which had been placed on the grave.

More than a hundred spectators watched the scouts form a semicircle about the grave and conduct the service. Each scout held a white carnation, which had been given by Phyllis Cowdrey, in his hand. Portions of the Scout Law were recited and amplifications on each law read.

The impressiveness of this part of the service may better be pictured in an example. The first scout reads, "A scout is trustworthy." Second scout—"Eagle Scout Paul Hawkes was one whose honor was to be trusted at all times." All the laws were read in similar fashion. As the scouts finished their part in the service they laid their carnations on the grave.

Rev. Warren N. Bixby of the Church of Our Saviour offered prayers. After the scout benediction the marker was unveiled and taps were played by the bugler of the troop, Bartles Sakalan.

The company then repaired to the grave of Frank Frazer who was formerly a member of troop 5 and who was killed in 1917 by a motor truck when he fell from his bicycle. Franklin P. Hawkes, Paul's father, placed an armful of flowers, taken from the grave of his son, on Frank's grave.

Mr. Hawkes then read Frank's scout record and also a poem, "Love and Remembrance," by Denz McCarthy. Mr. Bixby offered a prayer and taps were played.

BUILDING INSPECTOR GRANTS SEVEN GARAGE PERMITS

Seven garage permits were included in the ten building permits issued from the office of Building Inspector Gratto last week. The total value of the permits was only $15,250. Sixteen plumbing and sixteen gas permits were also granted. The building permits follow:

R. W. Clark, 21 Devereaux street, garage, $450; Wm. J. Burns, 1301-3 Mass. avenue, dining car, $6,000; Bertram J. Selfridge, 111 Oakland avenue, 1-family, $5,000; Clifford W. Birch, 96 Churchill avenue, porch, $100; Margaret B. Brennan, 40 Varnum street, garage, $800; Emile Saulnier, 130 Lake street, garage, $500; Emile Saulnier, 134 Lake street, garage, $500; Mabel Casteels, 10 Howard street, garage, $1,000; Albert H. Peterson, 6 Longfellow road, garage, $400; Carter Bros. Realty Trust, 36 Hillsdale road, garage, $500.

The shrubs in the Town Hall park are looking particularly lovely now and are showing the result of the careful attention they have received.

Beauty of color, form and sound united with authentic historical information to make "A Pageant of Music in America," presented before some 3,600 people in Robbins Memorial Town Hall last Friday and Saturday evening and Saturday afternoon, an event that will go down in Arlington's history and that will be remembered throughout the state as a high point of the year's celebrations.

In scope it was stupendous—nothing less than the story of music in this country, each piece of music sung or played, given the setting of its period with meticulous care as to details of costumes, furnishings and action. The size of the undertaking is measured by the cast, three hundred in number. Mechanically, the greatest ingenuity was used. The scenes were shifted with lightning rapidity and the unwieldy cast was rendered plastic through its efficient handling.

From the first parting of the curtains on a scene of waving blues and greens, through which danced the scarlet flame, to the final vivid, symbolic tableau there was no question of the appreciation of the audience. It was expressed in hand clappings, in exclamations and, even, in silence. Most frequent were two remarks. "This ought to be given in a larger place so that more people could see it," and "This ought to be repeated for the children. It's truly educational."

Credit Divided

The credit for the success of the pageant which will be remembered forever in one form or another must be divided among a great many people. Of course it was put on under the auspices of the Tercentenary Committee which in turn represented the taxpayers of the town. So every person in Arlington who pays so much as a poll tax must be thanked for a spectacle which will be handed down in history as one of the outstanding peacetime events of the town's three hundred years of existence.

But, for the conception of the pageant's theme and the actual work, the sincere gratitude of every one who saw the spectacle and heard the music, as well as of every other public spirited citizen, must go to Miss Grace Gordon Pierce and Mrs. Dorothy Clement Evans, who were the real moving forces and the actual directors. The work of Miss Helen Gage Bailey as chairman of the sub-committee of the Tercentenary Committee, was of inestimable value.

All those who directed the individual episodes and all those who accepted that direction as members of the cast carried out their work to their own enjoyment and the intense delight of the audiences. Those who were on committees handling the technical end must receive sincere commendation. Special mention should be made of the various chairmen, of course. Mrs. Roscoe P. Perry had charge of the staging and lighting, and a marvelous job she did. Mrs. Charles Hoxie assumed management of the costumes and costuming. Mention has already been made of the costumes, and it might be added that not a single one of the three hundred was lost. Mrs. William A. Forbes had charge of the properties. These were most exact in detail and necessitated an immense amount of research in their collection.

Lack of Confusion

One of the most remarkable things about the whole production, which could not be appreciated from the front of the house—was the complete lack of confusion behind the scenes. The scene shifters knew their jobs, the stage was cleared promptly at the conclusion of each episode, and the actors and actresses for the next episode were held off stage in the canopy until time for their entrances.

Speaking of the canopy, it stretched from the stage door of the Town Hall to the front entrance of the Junior High, and provided a means, a most necessary means, of reaching dressing room space other than that provided in the Town Hall itself, this being almost negligible. Each episode was assigned to a room and the participants, particularly the younger ones, practically imprisoned there until the call came. It is to be regretted that those in the cast could not have seen the performance also, but self must always sacrifice itself for art.

The Birth of Music

The first scene was the prelude to the whole symphony of musical episodes. The spirits of the wind and the spirits of nature wailed and danced and the thunder crashed while the prehistoric man, played by Tlestone Perry, slept oblivious to beauty. Finally, he wakes and hears the call of a bird. He seizes a reed and blows upon it to produce the same sound. Thus was the first flute note evolved.

While the thunder rumbled and the lightning flashed, a scarlet flame danced behind the gauze. The movements of that glaring blaze were as liquid as water and as graceful as a beautiful dancer. Closer inspection would have shown that it was a beautiful dancer. Phyllis McCabe was the flame.

The first episode proper was co-coached by a western man who has lived among the Indians most of his life and who knows their dances and the motives behind those dances. The episode itself was one of the most colorful in the pageant. It included several dances and cere-

CHRISTIE'S DINER SERVES

GOOD WHOLESOME FOOD

A short time ago one heard little about noonday lunches. Now they are advertised on every hand, and business people who cannot go to their homes at noon, as well as shoppers who are spending the day downtown, find that they can stop in almost anywhere and be served with appetizing foods of great variety for a moderate sum.

At Christie's Diner, 1390 Mass. Avenue, Arlington Heights, a specialty is being made of all-day lunches. One can drop in there any time between 5 a. m. and 2 a. m. and have a bite to eat or a substantial meal, whichever is desired. Here one is sure of good, wholesome food. Everything is served, from soups to wonderful steaks, chops and all kinds of choice short orders, prepared by the proprietor's efficient chef, Mr. Mello. The night service is in charge of Mr. William Courtois.

Christie's Diner is known for quality and service. To appreciate the quality of the food served at this restaurant, you must taste it. Once tried, you will appreciate why it is outstanding among restaurants, and you, too, will become a booster for Christie's Diner.

NENO PASQUI SATISFIES CUSTOMERS WITH BUILDING

When you find a contractor that has a host of satisfied customers, the best thing you can do is keep that contractor in mind for the building job which you have been contemplating for a time. If there is a list of customers that are satisfied with the work he has done for them, you can depend on him to do your work satisfactorily also. Remember, too, that it is not the number that counts but the degree of satisfaction that is evidenced by the clients they have served.

In Arlington there is such a contractor who, by reliability as well as ability, has secured a long list of satisfied customers. Mr. Pasqui is the best contractor that can be secured for any building job, be it large or small. He can build anything from a large building to a dog house and not only will he guarantee satisfaction but the prices at the time of completion will be as satisfactory as the job. Brick and block garages and fireplaces are a specialty of Neno Pasqui. He is located at 28 Mystic Valley Parkway and the telephone number is Arlington 0869.

LANDSCAPING PROBLEMS SPECIALTY OF N. P. HANSON

More and more the advantage of proper scenery about the home is being realized. In the last few years landscaping has been practiced diligently by a great majority of home owners. But landscaping, like other things, must be studied if the work done is to be successful.

Nunon P. Hanson of Bedford, specializes in the artistic landscaping of grounds for estates or small homes. He has had twenty-five years' experience with some of the largest nurseries in New England and New York.

The world judges by appearance! Make no mistake about it, you are being judged every day by the appearance of your home grounds. What kind of an impression do your home grounds make upon friends, neighbors and passers-by? Do beautiful ornamental trees, hedges, shrubs, vines and flowers say to all who look—"Here live people of good taste, culture and refinement—the kind of folk you would like to know?" Or does the lack of them give quite the opposite impression?

In one short season you can work miracles in the appearance of your place. Consult Nunon P. Hanson. He will assist you in achieving beautiful and fruitful home grounds. Make up your mind right now to know the thrill of satisfaction that comes with the knowledge that your grounds measure up to modern standards of beauty and good taste.

Nunon P. Hanson is always glad to be of service to you. Call him at Lex. 1107-M.

SPRING IS THE TIME FOR HOME DECORATING

Now is the time when you hear a lot of talk among house and property owners about dressing up their homes to look like new. House owners are much like Mother Nature, who makes springtime the most beautiful season. Everything looks clean and fresh when the drab winter is over. The cold weather, combined with the wind, snow and driving sleet, takes its toll of the exterior of the home, whatever kind of paint you have. Of course, you should not expect the paint to stand up forever. Think back and see how many years it has been since your home has had a coat of paint which both makes the home look better and also preserves it.

The same thing applies to the interior. It seems that the walls and ceilings of our homes look more drab when everything outside is so fresh. Wallpaper or paint, if you prefer, will go a long way to improve the internal aspect of the home.

For ultimate satisfaction in decorating and painting, you must have the best and that is, of course, the work done by William E. White, painter and decorator, floor refinisher, who is well equipped to do any decorating work, either interior or exterior, that you may have.

Mr. White has been located at 41 Park Ave., North, Arlington Heights, for 21 years, and in that time has seen his business grow, until now he is classed with the leaders in this line of work. Mr. White and his two sons give personal attention to all work.

—There were several visitors to the Jason Russell House last week. The house was kept open every day with some members of the society there to show the guests around.

And all so unnecessary. For now the Electric Doorman steps in to end your garage door troubles. Efficiency at the end of a button; safety at the turn of a key; good weather or bad, day or night, the Electric Doorman will open, light, shut, lock and put out the lights in any garage.

Simple to install, the Electric Doorman will fit any garage—whether overhead, sliding, swinging or folding doors. It can be installed in garages already built or included in the plans of garages yet in the making.

As you enter your driveway, the Electric Doorman button is conveniently at hand. Without leaving your seat, you can reach out, press the button and, presto, the lights go on and your garage doors swing magically open. You alight from the car in the garage—fully protected in any sort of weather.

Back in the house, a touch of a button puts out the lights, closes and locks the garage. No more bad weather hazard—no more worries for women folk in the dark. No more garage inconvenience of any kind. The Electric Doorman ends your garage door troubles and at a price within confines of the average car owner's purse.
